

THE COLORS OF SOUND

What if you could paint the world with the colors of sound? A magical, transformative experience; a gift for you to share with others. We believe that the flute is much more than an instrument and that music is much more than a series of notes. Music is essential to our well-being, to sensing and evoking emotions, to connecting on a deeper level than words could ever express.

We all have something to say. Your flute is an extension of your voice that comes alive with the flow of your breath. Hold it in your hands and know that it is everything you need. Imagine a flute with a limitless range of colors and textures, allowing you to communicate with nuance and meaning.

*Welcome to the Colors of Sound.
Welcome to the world of Miyazawa.*

“When I pick up my flute, I look for a panoply of sounds rather than a single flute tone. It’s exciting to reach for a variety of colours, textures, and dynamics to bring music to life. Our flute can be a vehicle for our imagination.”
